Madrid

Raised between cultures and accents, I'm a bilingual actress (Spanish/English) with international roots and a passion for telling stories that transcend borders. I've worked in film, television, and theatre, bringing versatility, intensity, and authenticity to every role. My training in acting, singing, and stage combat allows me to take on challenging characters, from intimate drama to physical action. I believe in the power of cinema and theatre to inspire, provoke, and move people. My goal is to bring truth and depth to every story I tell.

Passionate about life and learning.
